

Pouring out my complaint to God... Don't read this if you aren't ready to handle a man pouring out his complain to God in what I feel is a true and harsh message! If you can't donate to me at least donate to my 18 Christian orphans. Written by Dale Lee Gordon, January 4, 2018

<http://coloryourworldwithlove.homestead.com/Contact-Dale.html>

<http://www.childrenministriespk.com/index.html>

I don't want to complain about my God, but I feel I must talk to God at least. I have a little money. Some for food. I want to buy a very important software program but sadly that will have to wait. While it is only $20 plus tax I really can't afford it. You will see page 2 after God answers me. I don't hate God.

I really want to buy some of my books to pass out. I must forget about that. Lots of things I really want to do with this ministry I can't. Years ago, a wicked man stole all my money, but God he is not the webmaster. Does that man have rule as god over me for the rest of my life?

People come to my site they see you're a former criminal, mentally ill, (I am stable now with my medications.) and apparently can't manage my finances. Why invest in me???

Something more; I am not talking about GRACE GRACE GRACE! I am talking about a real God here. I'm talking about a God with consequences. I am talking about a God that will make you have to humble yourself and go to free food banks because you can't afford food. I don't have a car, I have an Obama Phone. I've gone six months without a hair cut and I don't see how I can afford another one. That is sad! So, God I guess I will continue to look like hell. This is my punishment for feeding 18 orphans.

LORD I feel like I am fighting you every step of the way. I am fighting an uphill battle to rank my websites in the search engines. LORD you said, "not by fame or money." Why does that even matter. I was made a famous fool back in 1998 when I went to jail. Yes, I was made quite famous in a really bad way, yet it seems no one even knows I am a Christian now. That is not right God.

I realize once again I'm just mad at you God. I want to love you God, and if all these works, and reading the Bible, don't prove that, I don't know who I am serving then. Can't I say I'm mad at you God without sounding blasphemous or evil. Does a wife not get angry with her husband at times? Well God I feel like Habakkuk complaining over all the world's evils and you do nothing, but before he can even finish his complaint you answer! Will you answer me or continue to ignore me?

Will this trailer, I don't own but live in, fall to the ground because I don't have the money to fix it? Will my faith find me wet and cold, homeless on the street? I need my teeth cleaned but right now I don't even have bus money to get to the free dentist. LORD I have another really bad tooth. LORD I HAVE TO ASK WHY ARE YOU EVEN KEEPING ME ALIVE???. Is it to punish me so I can go to hell in the end. I don't recall ever selling my soul to Satan though I guess I did that through Todd Jessie Garton and Brock Dale Bernstein. Is there no forgiveness at the cross? Can a man come to you LORD after doing so much wrong and find mercy? I am aging more and more and not getting anywhere. Well I just heard my answer as my roof leaked again. I guess my end is like Paul Newman in "Cool Hand Luke" in the church crying out to God. I have never received a donation for myself and I just bought a bunch of domains in faith as you told me in a dream. DO WHAT YOU WILL GOD I DON'T CARE ANYMORE!!! I got my answer again TextAloud is not working. I write a hard message to a real God. Amen. Page 2 coming!